Judicial, Relief Measures Highlighted Gen. Assembly

(Special from Springfield)
Annual salaries ranging from $8000 for domestic police magistrates to $25,500 for appellate court judges are proposed in identical bills offered in the Illinois General Assembly last week. The bills, which leave the $30,000 salary of supreme court judges unchanged, was recommended by the Illinois Judicial Advisory Council.

The salaries would apply to those taking office Jan. 1. All justices of the peace and magistrates will become magistrates on Jan. 1.

The issue of whether there should be ceilings on state public aid payments for poor relief and aid-to-dependent children continued as an issue. Passed was a bill which placed no restriction of payments for old age, blind and disability assistance but insisted on ceilings for other relief payments.

Gov. Kerner signed the bill to free $18,900,000. However, the action on public relief payments remains stalemated until tomorrow.

Fined For Disturbance

Roy Wiggins, 41, of 2122 Benton street, was arrested Thursday night for being drunk and creating a disturbance. Police were sent on a family disturbance complaint. He pleaded guilty to both charges Friday morning and was fined $5 and costs on each count.

The council passed an ordinance granting Union Electric Co. authority to maintain underground trunk lines and ducts for transmission of power lines under and along city streets and alleys.

An easement was approved permitting Lacide Pipeline Co. to lay and maintain pipelines to transport gas, petroleum and other products over, along and across McKinley bridge property, subject to approval of Hardisty and Hancock, bridge engineers.

Miller reported that four test mercury vapor street lights have been installed and performance is "very satisfactory." The mayor asked for public reaction for the next few months before more of the lights are installed. Miller suggested trees be trimmed, with the cooperation of residents where trees are on private property. Mayor Lee said "you can't have shade in the day and light at night."

John Tempo Retires After 40 Years With Press-Record

Forty years of meeting news of world war I service in paper headlines ended last week for a Press-Record printer, John Tempo, who retired after nearly a half-century in the printing field.

The only deadlines Tempo plans to meet now are those set by nature for gardening—and by the state's fishing and hunting codes.

Tempo and his wife, Florence, who live at 2206 Waterman avenue, are planning a trip to Phoenix this fall and a few others at later dates.

"Right now," Tempo said, "I'm going to relax, work in my yard, watch after my strawberry patches, the two of them on his 150-foot lot, and maybe do some fishing."

Mrs. Tempo agreed that he was relaxing. He didn't get up 'til after nine this morning.

Energetic Composer
At his printer's stone, however, Tempo didn't relax. His reputation was as an energetic and conscientious composer.

He started his 40-year career as a "printer's devil" at the old Ben Franklin Printery in Collinsville. "I was 14 years old when he was eight years old," he recalled. His family had moved to Collinsville from near Turin, Italy, when he was eight years old.

Virtually all of his 49-year career was directly with the printing trade, with the exception of two years.

Miss Elma Mae Epperson, 40, of 2444 Hodges avenue, died at 4:45 p.m. Friday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. She was ill one year with a heart ailment and was in the hospital five months.

She was born in Venice where she lived most of her life. She moved to Granite City 10 months ago after residing in Collinsville for two years.

Miss Epperson was employed as an inspector for Swift & Co. for 22 years and was a member of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butchers of America Local 78 and of Sacred Heart Church.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Epperson, Granite City; four sisters, Mrs. Wilbur (Katherine) Pfeiffer, Collinsville, and Mrs. Walter (Mary Lee) Royski, Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Christopher and Mrs. Elvin (Caroline) Simpson, all of Granite City; and two brothers, Walter Epperson, Collinsville, and Thomas Epperson, Granite City.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Rose Chambers, Granite City, and Mrs. Anna Mae Manning, Clarendon Hills, Chicago; a sister, Mrs. Anna Martin, Granite City; three brothers, Carl Niedringhaus, Los Angeles, Calif., and William Niedringhaus and Fred Ring, both of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and three grandchildren.

GC Steel Employees To Vote On Unions

The National Labor Relations Board will hold an election Wednesday for more than 100 employees of Granite City Steel Co. to determine if they wish to be represented by a union.

Those eligible to vote are salaried plant employees in a number of classifications who are not now organized. Many are plant clerical employees, an NLRB spokesman said. He pointed out that office clerical employees are not included.

Two unions are involved—the United Steelworkers of America and Office Employee International Union.

The employees may vote for either one or for neither. Any choice must have a majority of those voting, the spokesman said.

Voting will be conducted from 7:30 to 10 a.m. and from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. The vote will be tallied immediately, and the results should be known an hour later, the NLRB said.

How To Bank $1,000.00 This Year

By JOHN POLSON

Asst. Vice-President, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank

You can probably save $1,000 on an average income this year. First requirement is to want to do it very badly. If you don't, don't try it. Now, this is no recommendation, because on an average salary it can get mighty rugged, trying to save $1,000. But if you're willing to make a real crash program out of it, it can be done. Also, it can become fun as you see your savings grow.

Here are a few areas in which you can save money.

Vacation: Two weeks in a tent or back woods cabin costs much less than a resort type vacation and could wind up as your most memorable vacation. Normally you relax your nerve strings on a vacation, but this year you want that $1,000 more than anything else. So think about spending the second week at home making money at some odd job, doing some home repair project yourself instead of hiring someone else to do it, or just saving money by being home. Then put this amount in the bank, however small it is. This is the way your $1,000 begins.

Gifts represent another drain on the income. Don't buy them, but try handwork. Your own. A pair of bookends or a lamp made in your shop, a hand-knitted baby's suit—these could be much more welcome and deeply cherished than anything you could buy. Then bank the saving.

NOTE: For financial assistance or banking service, you are cordially invited to consult Mr. Polson or any of the other officers of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1909 Edison Avenue. Hours: 9:00 to 2:00—Monday thru Thursday. Friday 9:00 to 1:00 and 4:00 to 7:00. Telephone—Triangle 6-1212.

If you're making installment payments and the payments end before the year is up, don't use the money for anything else. Bank it.

Teen-agers in your family can contribute to this fund without cramping their style. Since eventually it may help pay for weddings or college educations, they shouldn't object. Plan to have a tax refund they get. If they earn less than $600 this will be a nice addition to the fund.

Grocery shopping—watch for bargains in meats, canned and frozen foods. This may seem like plain money. But if you do it 52 weeks a year, it can be real money.

If you or your children buy lunches, start carrying them instead. The old fashioned lunch bucket can add up to quite a little savings each month.

Pretend gas rationing is back. Make all your trips count; avoid toll roads and premium gas; buy oil in bulk. Put this savings away.

Bank at least 25% of any windfall that might come your way. Since these usually come from out of the blue sky, this one is easy.

Finally, if you're systematic or installment-minded, then act that way about your $1,000 goal for this year. Make periodic deposits in a separate bank account every week or month. If you follow these tips you should have that $1,000 safely put away in 12 months.—Advt.
